

English homework 3.11.23

This weekend will be Bonfire Night and our history topic has taught us why we let fireworks off and light bonfires on November the 5th. Look out of your window, or if you are visiting a fireworks display, look up to the sky and think of some interesting adjectives to describe how they look and sound. Fill the boxes with your describing words.

