

Ellie the elephant

Once upon a time, in a lush jungle, there was an elephant named Ellie. Ellie was a kind and gentle elephant who loved to explore the forest and play with her friends. She had a long trunk that she used to pick fruits and leaves from trees and a pair of big floppy ears.

One day, while Ellie was playing with her friends, she noticed a baby monkey crying on a tree branch. The monkey had fallen from the tree and was now stuck, unable to climb back up. Ellie immediately came to the rescue, using her long trunk to lift the baby monkey back onto the tree.

1 What did Ellie normally use her trunk for?

Tick two.

☐ To pick fruits.

☐ To scratch her back.

☐ To drink water.

☐ To pick leaves.

☐

1 mark

2 What happened to the baby monkey?

Tick two.

☐ She had lost her mum.

☐ She had fallen from the tree.

☐ She ate a banana.

☐ She was put back on the tree.

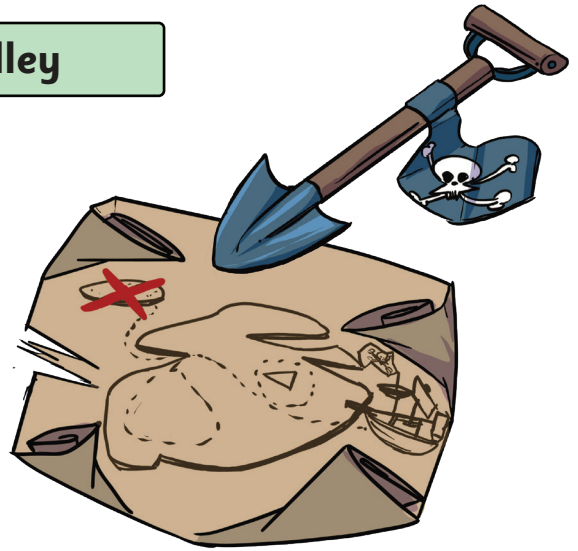

☐

1 mark

Grace O'Malley

Grace O'Malley was a brave and powerful pirate queen from Ireland. She lived a long time ago and was born in 1530.

Grace grew up in Ireland and learned how to sail ships from her family. She was very brave and strong and she became a leader of her people.

Grace was not afraid to stand up to the English who tried to take over Ireland. She fought hard to protect her people and their way of life. She even became a pirate, sailing the seas and attacking English ships because they tried to take the things which belonged to her and her people.

Grace was a role model for women in her time.

3 What sort of person was Grace O'Malley?

Tick two.

☐ She was quiet.

☐ She was happy.

☐ She was powerful.

☐ She was brave.

☐

1 mark

4 What did she do that made her famous?

Tick two.

☐ She stole treasure.

☐ She attacked English ships.

☐ She used a sword.

☐ She protected her people.

☐

1 mark